Fishbowl Solutions Turns Your Web Site Vision into Reality

We have implemented numerous Web sites on Oracle WCM. We have done it all. From intranets to extranets. From E2.0 enabled collaboration sites to high volume, public-facing transactional sites. From Web site architecture design to Flash-based web applications. We have the experience to turn your Web site vision into reality.

Craving an Improved Design for Your Company Web Sites?

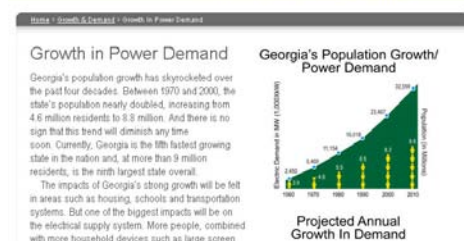

We can deliver a highly scalable site architecture that incorporates your graphic design and user experience requirements. Our expertise includes search engine optimization (SEO), reusable asset design, analytics, in-context editing and brand consistency. All of which drive a rich user experience and increased traffic to your site. Considering a Switch from a Web Site to a Web Application? We can help you design and plan for your new site architecture. Web applications engage your audience and allow you to sell or distribute your products or services and participate in an on-going conversation with your customers.

Need Simplified Site Management?

We design and deliver a convenient site management process, including development, staging and production environments, as well as the workflows to make site management work smoothly. We will design and help you roll out contribution and ownership processes and skills to business users.

“The OPC.com project had a tight timeline and several design unknowns. Fishbowl was enthusiastic and confident from the very beginning that they could meet the timeline and manage the ever changing design. Ultimately Fishbowl delivered on their promise and the Web site went live on time and within budget.”

- John Lauer, Manager of Enterprise Systems/Shared Services, Georgia System Operations Corporation

Keeping Your Web Content Fresh?

Stale, out-of-date and irrelevant Web copy is a leading cause of decreases in site traffic. Poor search engine ranking and low relevance scores are the result. Even the best SEO strategy cannot overcome outdated information. Our FishbowlSolutions software proactively notifies users, administrators, and site owners to review and update content. Based on Web and usage analytics, our solution helps keep your content fresh and your SEO strategy working.
