

Associated Documents™ for Oracle® UCM

Business Need

Often documents have implicit relationships with other documents. For example, you may have a standard contract with separate addendum documents. With Oracle UCM there is not an out-of-the-box method to associate these documents together.

Solution

Associated Documents provides association among documents.

- Allows one parent document to have multiple children documents
- Enables users to build hierarchical associations between documents
- Displays children documents on the information page
- Creates links from the child document to the parent document
- Allows revision specific associations so a child can be associated to a specific revision of the parent
- Limits child documents to one parent (for more robust relationship creation see Related Content)
